

Trends of contaminant from T&T Landfill

(as prepared by Stantec on 15 May 2019)

Ammonia has remained below its specific trigger level since May 2017, while copper and zinc are consistently below their trigger levels.

The remaining issue is that manganese remains well above the 1 mg/L target proposed to control formation of orange precipitate.

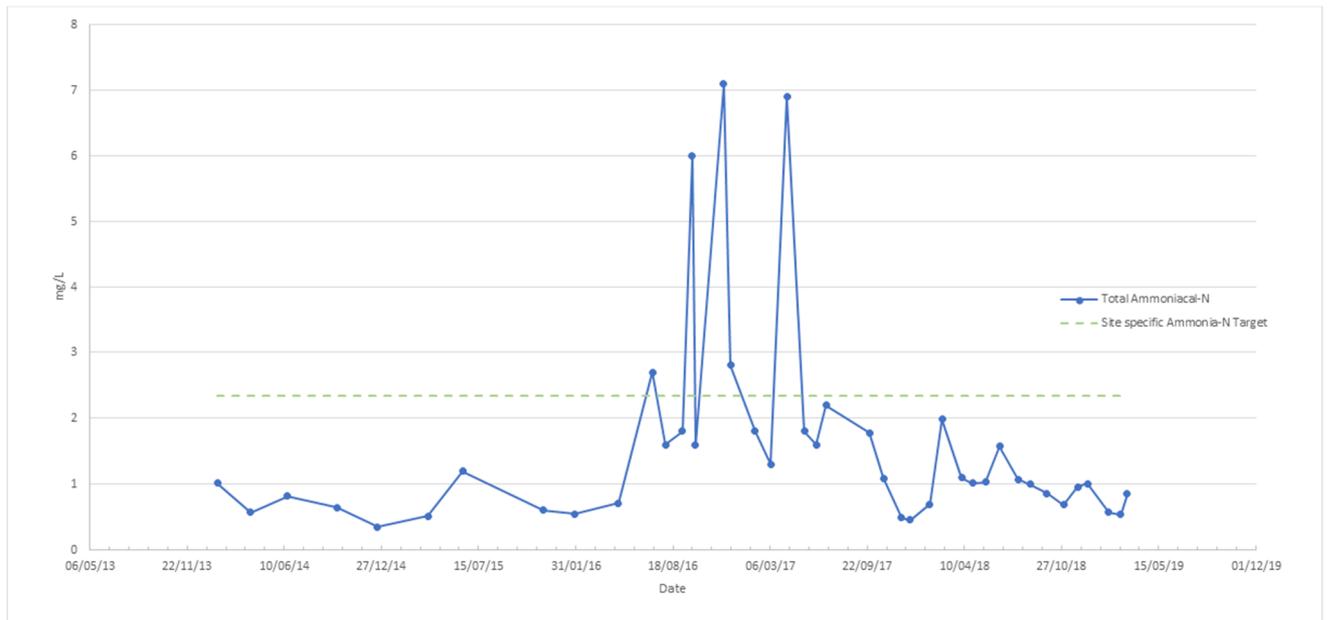

Figure 1 Ammonical-N trends graph

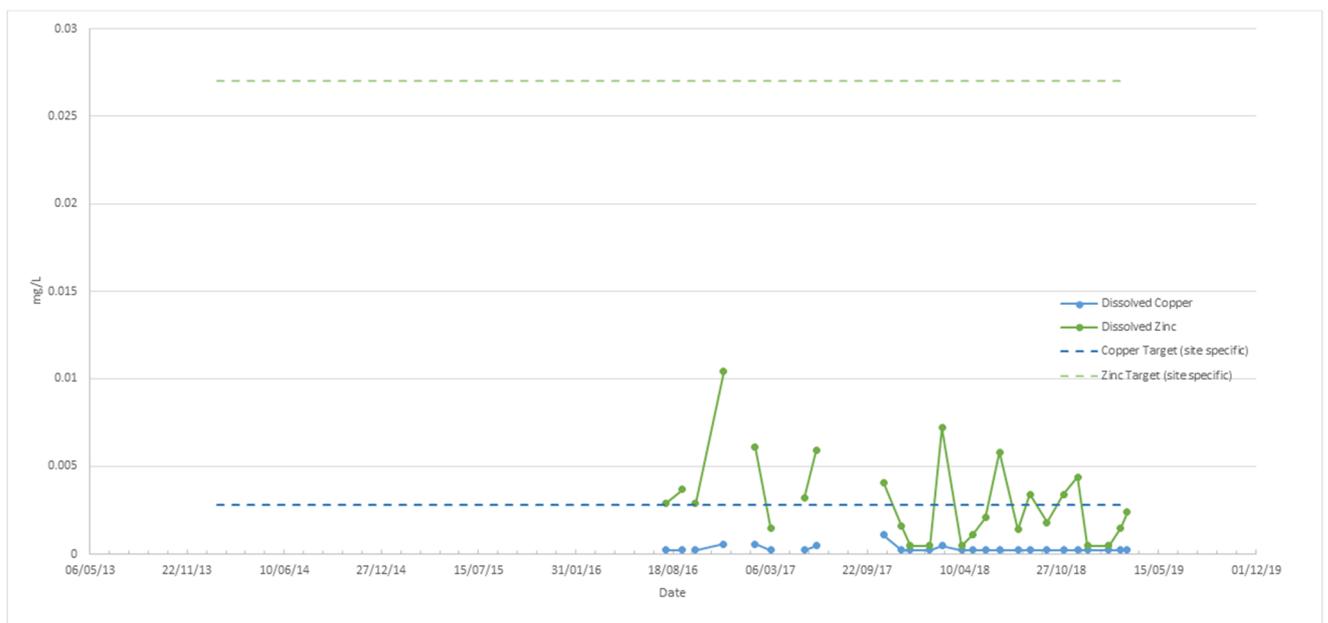

Figure 2 Dissolved Copper and Zinc trends graph

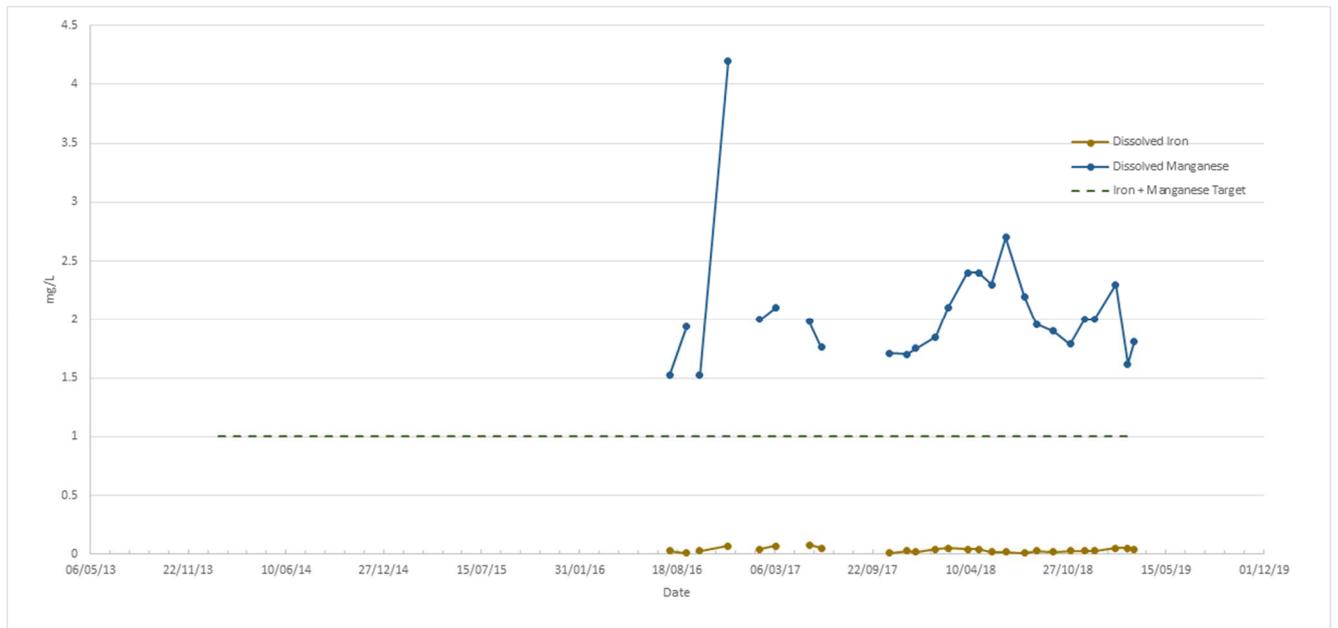

Figure 3 Dissolved Iron and Manganese trends graph